GOMPERS FIXES WORLD WAR BLAME

Claims Organized Labor in Germany Responsible

GIVES LABOR'S STAND

Thomas Reviews Problems—Peacemakers Blamed—Urges Disarmament—Warns of Ireland.

Denver, June 15.—Blame for the recent World War was placed squarely on the shoulders of organized labor in Germany by President Samubl Gompers in an address to the American Federation Federation of Labor Convention here today.

"I hold, and I accept full responsibility for what I am about to say," said President Gompers, "that the organized labor movement of Germany failed dismally at the critical hour.

"If it had taken the situation in hand it might have meant the destruction of a few thousands,, but it would have stopped the war. The failure of men to act at a time of crisis is faithlessness to a common cause."

In his address, which was a response to those of fraternal delegates from Great Britain and Canada, President Gompers dwelt upon the attitude of the Federation and himself both during the war and since, during the period of reconstruction.

W. F. Bush, fraternal delegate representing the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress, told the assembled delegates that despite difficulties, organized labor in Canada was at least holding its own. He reviewed the "one big union" movement and predicted "its early death."

A resolution was adopted by the convention urging Congress to pass immediately the Johnson bill providing for a Federal investigation into conditions in the Mingo county (West Virginia) strike zone.

Reviewing the international problems confronting organized labor of the world and the British coal miners' strike, J. H. Thomas, British labor leader, said:

"There is no difference today in any part of the world with regard to the problems with which we are confronted and compelled to face. The only difference is a difference of degree and we today in America, in Great Britain, France, in all the Central Powers, are suffering the inevitable price of having lived a riotous life for six years. A nation pays the same price as an individual; if nature is abused, nature will exact her price."

Success of the British coal miners' strike was predicted by Mr. Thomas who declared that the miners had gone on strike "without a brass copper in their fund."

America, France, Italy, and every power that was a party to the peace treaty must bear a share of the responsibility of the miners' coal strike crisis, Mr. Thomas asserted.

The peace treaty, which he said was designed to "make Germany pay," gave France 2,000,0000 tons of German coal per month and as a result "we woke up one morning in England and discovered that the mines that were taken over during the war and controlled by the Government were losing 4,500,000 pounds sterling a month."

Referring again to the framing of the peace treaty, Mr. Thomas said the net result of it was that it wasn't Germany paying, it was the French and the British miner who paid.

Mr. Thomas declared the "only cure" for war "is disarmament."

"You cannot go on building armies and navies without leading either to bankrutpcy or explosion," he declared.

Mr. Thomas, who is president of the International Federation of Trade Unions, urged the labor movement to use the ballot and exercise

Wedding at St. Mary's

Miss Margaret M. Whitestone Bride of Mr. E. T. Reilly, of Springfield

Miss Margaret M. Whitestone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Whitestone, of this city, and Mr. Ernest T. Reilly, of Springfield, Mass., were married this morning at St. Mary's Catholic Church with a nuptial mass. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. A. Rankin assisted by Rev. William J. Meredith, of Winchester, Va., friends of the family.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a dark traveling suit of tricotine, a black picture hat and wore a corsage of bride's roses.

Miss Eleanor B. Nugent, of this city, was maid of honor. She wore blue taffeta and georgette, and a black picture hat and a corsage bouquet of ophelia roses. The best man was Mr. Robert F. Whitestone, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party and the immediate families at the Hofel Rammel. Immediately afterward the couple left for a northern tour. They will make their home in New York City where the groom is connected with the Fred T. Ley Company.

The occasion this morning marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents.

Among the out of town guests attending were Mr. T. W. Keilly, of Springfield, Mass., Mrs. David Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Connain and Mr. Alfred Bailey, of Culpepper, Va., Mrs. R. E. Lee, Mrs. Edwin Griffith and daughter, of Charlottesville, Va., and Miss Isabella Mulhern, of Washington, D. C.

AWARDED HONORS

At the graduation exercises of Georgetown University held yesterday afternoon, Mr. William Manger, of this city, received the degree of bachelor of laws, and was awarded the faculty prize of $75 for the highest average attained by any student during the senior year.

In winning this prize, Mr. Manger duplicated his feat of last year when he was honor man of the junior class.

CHAUTAUQUA HERE JULY 11 TO 17

Preliminary Plans Made by Local Committee Last Night

OFFICERS CHOSEN

Announcement Made That There Will Be Many Special Features This Year.

The Chautauqua season in Alexandria, July 11 to 17 will be the best yet according to reports made at the meeting of the guarantors which was held last night at the Chamber of Commerce. There was a splendid representation from the fifty nine who last year pledged themselves to guarantee the fifteen hundred dollars, in addition to the local expenses, which it is necessary to raise in order to secure the benefits of this wonderful series of lectures, entertainments etc., for this city.

S. W. Pitts, chairman of the Alexandria guarantors presided at last night's meeting, which had been called for the purpose of perfecting the organization for this season's work. L. H. Dudley was chosen as treasurer, and the following chairmen of committees elected: Tickets, Miss Bentha Allison; ground, N. S. Greenaway; hauling, Robert H. Cox; advertising committee, Miss Lucy Graves, J. H. Trimyer, J. F. Myers. C. E. Dare and Mrs. H. B Caton, who is secretary of the organization.

Among the special features of this year's program which marks the tenth anniversary of the Swarthmore Chautauqua Association, are the popular opera "The Bohemian Girl", Dr. Gregory Zilboorg's Lecture, and the great comedy-drama, "Nothing But the Truth." Season tickets for both adults and children will soon be on sale by the guarantors at the usual prices, or may be secured by telephoning the Secretary at 1181, or calling at the Y. M. C. A. office. No one can afford to miss this opportunity of securing at moderate prices such high class entertainment for this Chautauqua week.

D. Thomas Curtin, the journalist and stirring war correspondent who lectured to an Alexandria audience last season pays the following tribute to the Chautauqua principle, "I believe in Chautauqua because from the very beginning it co-operates with the citizens of the town. It draws no distinctions. In the very nature of its make-up and its spirit it gives equal welcome to all religious denominations, to all political faiths, to all Americans regardless of what stock they may have sprung. I know of nothing more invigorating to the public life of a town than for all sorts of people to sit beneath the same tent or in the same hall, listen to the same music, laugh together at the same comedy and consider together the wide variety of important subjects discussed by Chautauqua lecturers.

All this is true democracy. And it is only through true democracy founded upon Christian principles—not through autocracy and sham democracy—that our own country and all other countries can ultimately climb to the heights of happiness."

PROPOSE TO ERECT SCHOOL BUILDING

Council Authorizes Plans and Specifications to be Prepared

TO CONTAIN 16 ROOMS

Health Officials Re-Elected—Aldermen Defeat Mayor's Veto—Decision On Friendship Engine House

The joint committee on finance and schools at a meeting of the city council held last night presented a resolution authorizing the construction of a sixteen room school building on the lot of the Alexandria High School and directing the city engineer to have plans and specifications prepared and submit to council an estimate of the cost of construction and the report was adopted.

A joint session was held at which time the following officials of the city health department were re-elected to serve for the ensuing year: Dr. L. E. Foulks, city health officer; Dr. W. Clyde West, bascteriologist. The nominations were made by Councilman Mattier. Following the election Health Officer Foulks submitted the name of Dr. James J. Garvey for re-election for deputy health officer and he was elected being nominated by Councilman Sullivan, Councilman McCeffrey, however, declined to vote when Dr. Garvey's name was presented.

The board of aldermen by a vote of 7 to 1 defeated the veto of Mayor J. M. Duncan to the $800,000 bond issue, Mr. Summers voted to sustain the mayor. Mayor Duncan desired a $600,000 bond issue. The $300,000 bond issue having passed the common council at the last meeting of that body will now become a law.

The special committee of council composed of Councilmen Tiger, Wattles, Kaufman and Devers and Aldermen Ballenger and Wilkins named to confer with the members of the Friendship Fire Association to ascertain what arrangements, of any, could be made with the members of the Friendship Company toward securing the old hand engine for exhibition purposes by the Russell Mitchell Post Veterans of Foreign Wars reports dthat the building of the Friendship Company is the property of the city of Aleaxndria and that the engine is the property of the Friendship Company. They also appended to their report a report submitted to them by the corporation Attorney H. Noel Garner setting forth the facts in the case.

The committee in their report set forth that they would gladly give the war veterans any other city property they might desire to use as a meeting place.

H. L. Arnold, one of a delegation of the members of Russell Mitchell Post present, was given the floor and he among other things said that they had a meeting place of their own and wanted to use the place as a museum and charge a fee to see the engine, the fund to be applied for the use of ex-service men and their families.

The veterans he said had no desire to join the Friendship Company as they were not veteran firemen and he added there is only one living member of the Friendship Company, Mr. Clarkson.

The corporation attorney was directed to give his opinion as to the ownership of certain furniture taken from the Relief Truck House. Councilman Tiger presented a resolution which was adopted that the corporation attorney ascertain whether or not it is necessary to submit the proposed bond issue to the freeholders.

Resolutions carrying appropriations for street improvements amounting to $35,000 were presented and referred to the joint committee on streets and finance. They follow: $10 000 for macadam roadway 27 feet wide n

Celebrate Flag Day

Minims of St. Mary's Enjoy All Day Picnic at Fair View

When the school bell rang Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, St. Mary's Minims turned their backs upon class room and books and piled into flag decorated automobiles with bulging lunch boxes and goodies of all kinds. Waving goobye to the teachers and pupils of the higher grades who seemed to envoy them their good fortune, they started for the future home of the boarding department of a "Greater St. Mary's"—this beautiful Fair View Estate. The day was perfect in every detail, clear sunny skies cool breezes and a wonderful atmosphere that made the monument and capital appear very near.

Bathing, folk dancing, races, games and a visit to the "live shack" kept the children and their chaperones busy until the dinner bell called them to the house. In the late afternoon ice cream and cake, a great ly appreciated gift from Mrs. Thomas Kelly, was served on the lawn. A flag drill followed and the children sang several pretty choruses When the first auto drove up to take the little ones home, there were no willing passengers. All wanted to wait for the last car. Thanks to Mrs. Thomas Kelly and Mrs. James McGowan who placed their machines at our disposal, the children with their teachers and the invited guests had a pleasant ride back to the city after sunset.

St. Mary's takes this opportunity to thank all who helped to made Flag Day at Fair View a great success.

Victim Of Apoplexy

Lamar Munroe Dies At His Home Today

Lamar Munroe, about 42 years old, was stricken with apoplexy while at his home at Arcturus, Fairfax county, several miles south of this city, at 7 o'clock this morning and expired a few minutes afterward. The deceased for the past two years had been employed as a bookkeeper in the Citizens' National Bank. Mr. Munroe was in his usual health and the announcement of his sudden death was a great shock to his many friends. Previous to accepting the position at the bank he had been employed as a rural mail carrier at the postoffice, which position he held for a number of years. The deceased besides his wife, who was a Miss Jenkins, is survived by three children.

SUPPER GIVEN BY CLUB WOMEN

Purposes of Organization Given by Mrs. Croxton of Richmond

65 MEMBERS ATTEND

New Club To Meet Once a Month—Composed of Business and Professional Women

The Business and Professional Women's Club, of this city, starts off with a charter membership of seventy three, and about sixty-five of this number attended the initial supper of the organization last night at the chamber of commerce.

The opening address was made by the president, Miss Lucy Graves, followed by a prayer by Miss Mary Monroe. The president then called upon each member to stand, announce her name and the business she represents, which called forth many amusing remarks.

The honor guest of the evening was Mrs. Pereba Croxton of Richmond, vice president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in Virginia, and also a director of Public Health Nursing in Virginia, who gave a most instructive outline of the aims of the organization. Miss Mowatt, one of the efficient visiting nurses of this city, was also introduced and gave a short talk. The program committee had arranged a most attractive entertainment, the first number of which was a beautiful and graceful fancy dance by Miss Josephine Duffey; second a dialect recitation by Miss Mary Davis, who responded to an encore; a ukelele duet by Miss Helen Outcalt and Miss Irma Wolf was greatly enjoyed and heartily applauded.

Immediately following the program the business session was conducted. a model constitution, sent from headquarters for consideration, was adopted after several changes, to meet local conditions, had been made. Miss Leslie Cox was elected corresponding secretary, the other offices having been filled at the May meeting.

The names of five applicants for membership were presented by the membership committee and the following were elected by the unanimous vote of the club; Miss Lelia Thompson, Miss Margaret Spinks, Mrs. Marion Chauncey, Miss Marguerite Davis and Miss Sarah Cox.

The next meeting of the club will be held on July 12, in the chamber of commerce auditorium, when supper will be served at 6.30, with a very short business session to enable the members to attend the chautauqua which will be in progress at that time.

The meeting last night was a success from every standpoint. The object of the club is the give the business women of the town an opportunity to meet socially once a month, and enjoy an informal evening when business cares are laid aside. The club has formulated no plan of work other than to enjoy the acquaintance of fellow workers in their home city.

Where Are The Books?

We have read with some care the able brief filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission by Attorneys Conrad H. Syme and James R. Caton, in behalf of the Alexandria Commuters' Association and the Chamber of Commerce. In this connection, we recall distinctly the thorough and grilling cross-examination conducted by Mr. Caton, of the Railway Company's witnesses, anent the mysterious and baffling loss of the books of the Company prior to the year 1920.

Without the records of previous years, the comparison of statistics is impossible; and all effort in the way of deduction and inference, futile. This reduces the railway company's contentions as to the future, to mere guess work; and as we said, during the campaign of last winter, their alleged experts are bad guessers. They guessed in 1919 that the raise they then asked for, would yield an additional gross operating revenue of $253,408.00 whereas the actual operating results for the year 1920, indicated an increase of only $65,000. They missed their guess by about $190,000!

It is mainly for this that the Gazette has so insistently stressed an examination of their books! We cannot blame our attorneys for this default of evidence. Of itself, however, this should have had a weight with the Commission which apparently it did not have.

An interesting fact brought out by Mr. Caton, is the valuation placed by the Railway's experts, on the property, at $6,982,000; making a valuation on the track-length from mile-post to mile-post, that is, 43.1 miles, of $155,000 per mile. These same witnesses testify that the road was capitalized at $8,567,000, in spite of the fact that it owns no power plant, or stations of any decency, except, perhaps the station at Mt. Vernon. Mr. Zimmerman fixes the capitalization at $8,654,000 based on its outstanding stock and other obligations. The record shows the original cost of the road to have been about $2,500,000. Mr. Zimmerman, testifying for the company, places its fair valuation at $4,000,000, as a rate making basis.

In other words, the patrons of the Washington-Virginia Railway Co., are to make good the past bad management and tote the burdens of from four to six millions of over-capitalization!

Where have these $6,000,000 gone? The books would tell—but the books have disappeared!

The brief of Messrs. Syme and Caton makes mighty interesting reading. We believe it ought to have won the case. To us it is logical, forcible, and convincing. We believe it should be read generally by our citizens, and if we are not mistaken, they can read it at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, which took a vigorous initiative last winter, and who were so ably represented in the trial of the case by our esteemed fellow-townsman, James R. Caton.

Interesting Address Of Irving Diener At Ad Men's Club

As a retailer engaged in public business in this city, I rather welcome the opportunity, on behalf of myself as well as my co-merchants, to discuss the subject allotted me by our President, and shall endeavor to present to you statistics I have gotten together which as a result, give, in my opinion, an affirmative answer to the topic "Have the Retailers of Alexandria met the reduction given by the Wholesalers."

We as a class are probably the recipients of more abuse and the targets for more criticism than any other due to the fact that we are the last in the lines of distribution and coming in direct contact with the consumer necessitates explanation of all the evils that exist, and the whys of prices being what they are. Our failure to fall as the public expects, is up to us

The present agitation, which by the way is only a continuance of that which emanated with the United States joining the Allies in the World War, is the result of a recent report of the Federal Trade Commission that the retailers "are obstructing the return to normalcy by refusing to reduce prices."

In the language of Mr. John W. Haim, secretary of the National Retail Garment Association, such a report is "malicious, unfair, unfounded and particularly annoying at this time."

It was simply an appeal for public clamor and the retailer, of course, was the easiest one to pass the buck to, but the question that comes to our minds, is that if such a report was for the best interest of the Nation? If the public cease to buy, waiting for lower rates distribution is prevented, factories must close and general unemployment in the United States increased. Constant agitation has done more to kill business and hold back readjustment than any other single factor and the crumbling of the whole industry when only an isolated few were guilty was discriminating. We do not say that the Government could find obsolete cases here and then to uphold their contention. I think government supervision a good thing if impartially applied, but records show that from May, 1920, prices not only stopped going up, they began coming down. Wholesale prices are down more than 30 per cent, U. S. Bureau of Labor is said to have set the reduction at about 38 per cent, the Federal Reserve Board is said to have suggested a cut of 41 per cent. Now Retail prices were never as quick in proportion to wholesale prices, and today we are following the wholesale market more closely in prices, than in any other time in our history, as competition would not permit us to do otherwise.

To some of you I feel confident that in lines other than your own you did not realize the marked decreases all along the line, for it is but human nature that we think it is only ourselves who have felt most sharply what the return to normalcy has done for us in the way of taking mark downs. It is not for me to decry our losses or sulk in the form of dissatisfaction over the fate that fell the lot of every merchant in bringing about a better period of times. I am proud to state that I am a member of the mercantile craft, and though a misapprehension of facts the buying public will little appreciation the sacrifices we made yet there is no finer example of unselfish loyalty, no better type of citizenship, nor is there more eagerness expressed by any class to bring about those conditions that approach the much talked of "Normalcy", than that evidenced by the American Retailer.

There are many things which enter into the selling of merchandise that the average consumer gives but little though to and the public must be presented with the facts so that they might know something pertaining the cost of doing business and the factors that enter into it. It would not take a great amount of advertising space to explain that one of the greatest factors in the cost of distribution is the salaries a store pays the employees. A store pays good salaries in order to secure the best talent and render to the trade the best of selling service, and we doubt if the public would like to see the stores of Alexandria materially lower the standard of renumeration paid their help.

Then there has been no decrease in rents, or its equivalent if you own your own building because of increased cost of repairs and maintenance.

Transportation, inward, increased railroad rates, more goods received by parcel post and express in order to better serve our customers. Advertising and numbers of other things that enter into the cost of doing business have shown no appreciable decline and yet every commodity that is sold over the counter has in the past year gone down 33 1-3 to 60 per cent, and such reductions have been reflected in the retail prices. There are very few retail stores who ever earn as much as 10 per cent net return on the amount of business done and in most cases it averages from two to six percent.

I do not believe that the customers of Alexandria Merchants or of any store, no matter where they be located, if fully informed by the retailer concerning prices as they exist today would concur in the opinion of our Government authorities, and say we are not doing our patriotic bit, but this is where we have lacked organization. We have failed to put across the message so vital to the interest of the mercantile world and our general welfare, by not giving the public presentation of facts, and for the benefit of those who we desire to have the truth, I hope the President of this Club will tonight appoint a publicity committee, whose purpose it shall be to prepare and submit to the court of public opinion articles bearing on the retail trade.

Speaking of insidious publicity permit me to bring to your attention the latest and most serious form of propaganda directed against us. The timely films Corporation of New York has released the following film, which will come under the head of Town Topics now being flashed on the screen at various theatres and motion picture houses throughout the country.

"Retail Merchants, you are responsible for slow business in your store. The public wants to buy. They must buy. Wages are declining, manufacturers are selling cheaper. Readjust your stock and merchandise as many merchants are now doing. You will encourage more buying, you will see better business, more orders, more employment, busier factories and general prosperity. Now for the general pulse reducing day." Do you realize the far reaching effect of such a message which it is estimated will be read by 15,000,000 persons? Where does it come from, who is responsible for it. Probably if the truth is known the manufacturers who overstocked because the retailer refuses to continue to give him the prices he asks and at which the public will not buy, are using this very measure against him and what are we doing to combat it? The great trouble today is that the average retailer is too much engrossed with his own business to give any thought to the great mercantile craft with which he is affiliated. He does not seriously concern himself with such matters, as I present to you, and which are aiming at the life roots of your business, but when such matters are brought to his attention he will usually leave you with a request to let someone else do it, I'm too busy. I plead in all seriousness that business men take more interest in the affairs of every nature of your city, your state and the nation. Be a big part in the constructive work of your community, be on the job looking out for your interest, take part in politics, and put men in office who are not idealist, but who are endowed with practical business knowledge and are able to make laws that stimulate business, attract industries to your city and commonwealth, remember than strife them with the burden of unjust statutes and inequitable taxation when you do that you will be in a position to talk, rather than being talked about.

It was my very happy privilege to attend a meeting of the Retail Merchants Association in Newport News a few weeks ago in company with some of my fellow merchants. We listened to many interesting and instructive addresses bearing upon the problems that confronts us, but what impressed me more than all others was the speech of J. R. Brownley, of Norfolk, who made reference to present prices and "Ethics in Merchandising." Declaring that the truth is truth and there should be no difference between a truth told by a merchant in the business world and that expressed at his home and among friends. "When all merchants realize this we will be far better off, and will have made great strides in honest business.

Too, may I add that when by a full adherence to the truth of every statement you make concerning the merchandise you offer, and merchants shall no longer tend to somewhat exaggerate the merit of this or that particular article, and then shall mention of his store become a synonym of honesty and fair dealings and "Confidence," which is a store's most valuable asset shall have been well merited, and a publicity committee to prove the righteous conduct of business will be a relic of an age when merchants failed to see what the Divine rules that guide the conduct of men likewise from the basis for successful merchandising.

Probably I have wandered somewhat from my subject, but my interest in matters relating to the retailer has never waned and in conclusion I want to take this occasion to say that in my opinion we have no organization that comes into more intimate relationship with the public than that of an Advertising Club. Advertising is one of the greatest essentials of business, taking shape in many different ways it acts as our publicity agent carrying our message to the people. The most used method of advertising is through newspaper and the press should be our best friend, with our interest so interwoven a 100 per cent co-operation should exist.

It was particularly pleasing to me that at the meeting of the merchants at Newport News a local News Editor should have exercised that interest to accompany a number of business men on the trip to meet and inform himself, and keep in touch as to what the merchants are doing, and gentlemen, if that spirit only existed on the part of all newspaper men, I feel that they would soon appreciate that "Truth in Advertising could not be better expressed than in restriction from their own columns those articles which have so often appeared aiming to do harm to the very class that make their own success possible. The power of the press exrts a tremendous influence. We want their support, because we have nothing to hide and I believe when things are properly presented to them, we will always find that the newspaper men are our best friends.

To such a purpose must we bend our efforts and pursue it cultivate a community spirit whereby the citizens of our city shall more thoroughly understand our problems and we therein, and Buying at Home will become a more established fact. Not from any standpoint of Civic Pride but because the Alexandria Shopper will know that his home town merchants are giving him prices that represent every readjustment of the market and which meet any competition anywhere.

I understand that local merchants report business up to last year. That's splendid, gentlemen, it shows the soundness of your local economic fabric, too it is substantial proof that Alexandria is not standing still, and above all it is rather conclusive that our merchants are selling merchandise at prices that the public thinks is right.

What Is There To Life Without Health?

Why sacrifice all its joys on the altar of ill-health—nervous and bodily run-down, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, when "that Daly habit" builds glowing health on the ashes of your former ills? Everybody's body needs recharging—some complete rebuilding; it all depends upon how long you neglect it. It's easier to break down your health than to build it up, but the daily habit of Dalys Tonic of Cod Liver Extract of Malt, Wild Cherry, Glycerine, Hypophosphites and Wine soon puts you back on the right track.

Our whole message to the people of the South is: Safeguard your health while you have it, take a tonic once in awhile if you feel the need of it, and if you've tried everything else, that's all the more reason why you should give Dalys a chance.

Your druggist can tell you a lot more about Daly's Tonic, than we can right here. Ask him.

Verdict For $6000

Jury Reaches Decision in Suit For Death of John A. Fox

A verdict for the sum of $6,000 was given by a jury in the corporation court shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon in the suit of William B. Dixon, administrator, against Arthur H. Bryant, trading as Herbert Bryant's Son, the object of which was to recover damages in the sum of $10,000 for the death of John A. Fox which occurred November 1, 1920. Fox was riding a motorcycle while on his way to work at the Fruit Growers' Express when his motor vehicle was struck by an auto delivery truck of Mr. Bryant.

The jury was out nearly two hours Thomas E. Dyson was foreman of the jury.

Weary Of School Days

Leon Hozier, 15 Years Old, Runs Away From Covington School

Leon Hozier, 15 years old, was an involuntary guest at the industrial school at Covington, Virginia, according to his own statement made to the police. For that reason he left the school. He made a flying trip to Washington and took in the sights, school life in Covington being entirely too monotonous for him. Anyhow, he reached Alexandria last night and was nabbed at the union station by Policeman Carlton Padgett. The boy is being detained till word is received from his father in Norfolk, Va.

London Times Predicts U. S. Will Ratify Peace Treaty

London, June 15.—In an editorial bearing the caption "America and Peace," the London Times expresses great satisfaction at two announcements from its Washington correspondents that the Treaty of Versailles would be probably ratified by the United States "at no distant date," though subject to far reaching reservations, and that one of the aims of American foreign policy promises world wide cooperation with Great Britain.

Prison Bars Quickly Change Woman's Mind

Doylestown, Pa., June 15.—When she was on the outside looking in Mary G. Leatherman said she didn't care whether she went to jail for contempt of court or not, but when she was on the inside looking out she changed her mind in exactly twenty-four hours. Miss Leatherman is 60 and lives at Dublin, near here.

She was cited for failure to make distribution as executrix of the $14,000 estate of William D. Rowland, for whom she was housekeeper many years. She defied the court order on the ground she deserved the entire estate because she never had received any pay and finally was sent to jail after repeated warnings. Now Miss Leatherman, who is worth $20,000 herself, says she wil lpay up.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

DANGERS OF A COLD

Alexandria People Will Do Well to Heed Them

Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood and backache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Follow this Alexandria resident's example:

C. E. Davis, fireman, truck and engine company No. 1, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for a good many years and they have always given me wonderful relief. My trouble has been brought on by being out in all kinds of weather and catching colds which settle in my kidneys. Then my back gets sore and weak and I can hardly get around. The kidney secretions will pass irregularly and make me get up often at night. However I find I can rely on Doan's Kidney Pills to give me the desired relief. My kidneys have never been in bad condition since I started using Doan's Kidney Pills for those attacks."

THE INDIANS KNEW

A famous physician stated that more women might findiecfrio(Mk more women might find relief from suffering through taking a medicine like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound than through undergoing surgical operations, if they would only take it in time. At the first sign of female weakness, as indicated by backache, dullness, bearing down pains and nervous exhaustion, take this famous remedy of roots, and herbs, and avoid the serious consequences of delay.

The Indians and early settlers knew and benefited by Nature's Allies, the roots and herbs of the field. Because Lydia E. Pinkham knew their medicinal value, thousands of women all over the world have been saved from operations, but only such as have taken it in time.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Richmond, Va., June 15.—State Senator W. L. Andrews, of Roanoke, is here to attend the meeting of the Hampton Roads Port Commission, and was a visitor at Trinkle Head quarters today. When asked about the campaign for Governor, he said: "I recently polled a meting of 25 prominent business men in Roanoke who were assembled to discuss a business proposition, and found 23 were for Senator Trinkle. He will carry Roanoke city and the Sixth district by a very handsome majority. "I am familiar, also, with the situation in the Fifth District, and he is as strong, or stronger, there. "The business men and farmers of our section are for him. "His excellent record in the Virginia Senate should recommend his candidacy even to those who do not know him personally. His colleagues in the Senate recognize Senator Trinkle as one of the strongest members of that body and one who, by reason of training and ability, is well qualified to preside over the destinies and successfully conduct the affairs of Virginia."

Richmond,—Twenty years ago Sunday—June 12, 1901—the history making constitutional convention of Virginia, pursuant to an act of the legislature and a vote of the people, convened in the capitol building in Richmond for the purpose of revising and amending the state constitution, and before it had concluded its deliberations, the debates being at times marked by acrimony and recriminations, it had succeeded in drawing into itself the attention of the entire country.

Portsmouth, N. H.—This city is without a newspaper, due to strike of the compositors.

Hopewell,—Judge Robertson, in corporation court here Saturday, appointed David A. Harrison, Jr., former mayor of Hopewell, Va., as receiver for the Virginia State Bank, which has closed its doors. It was announced that due to the depreciation in the value of liberty bonds, of which the bank had purchased a large amount, and general business conditions, the directors did not see fit to continue business.

Representative R. Walton Moore, Eighth Virginia district, who underwent a minor operation at Garfield Hospital a few days ago, left the institution Monday to attend the meeting of the joint congressional committee on reorganization of the administration branch of the government. Mr. Moore found, however, that he was not as strong as he had thought he was and was forced to return to the hospital, where it was stated that he probably will not be able to return to his office for at least a week.

Jamestown Island—The 314th anniversary of the Anglican communion in America was celebrated here Monday with a special communion service on practically the same spot where the early British settlers, in 1607, held their first communion services. Conducted by Bishop Beverley D. Tucker, Episcopal bishop of southern Virginia, the service duplicated as far as possible the first American communion and a silver service, presented to the Jamestown Church more than 300 years ago by the British crown, was used.

VOLIVA THREATENS TO PUT WOMEN IN ROAD GANGS

Zion, Ill., June 15.—Zion's road repair force soon may be augmented by women, if Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva keeps his latest pronouncement against women who wear dresses which expose more than their necks to the "juncture with the collar bone."

Three women already have been warned by police and presented with printed notices giving them a 'reasonable time to retire from public view."

Last night at the Tabernacle Voliva issued his final warning. "The police," he said, "will arrest any woman in this town that goes around the streets half naked.

Washington Nationals vs. St Louis Browns!

Alexandria kids free!

Friday afternoon, June 17, 1921, Cars leave station corner Prince and Royal streets at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

That is some story, but a true one. E. W. Jordan, vice-president of the American League Baseball Club has decided to be a regular fellow and has invited the kids of Alexandria and the immediate school district to be his guests at the game Friday of this week.

Mr. Wallace of the Y. M. C. A. was asked to help engineer the affair and immediately enlisted the assistance of Dr. Moore, president of the Alexandria school board, who was glad to co-operate in getting the word to all of the youngsters of the fifth grade and up through the high school.

The Y secretary says he can scarcely assume responsibility for each younsber but that he will provide cars organize the bunch and have his Pioneers act as official guides, and finally see that they get into the grounds and have the time of their lives while there.

Teachers are to be admitted free but Mr. Wallace is not so sure about the parents getting in free. But he thinks it would be a good chance to go any way and just see what a good time kids can have at a base ball game. And everybody will boost for the Nationals to win.

Any youngsters who do not attend the public schools are invited and can secure all assistance rendered to the school groups by calling the Y. M. C. A., phone 1181.

Tire repair men, who judge values best, class these tires as having the sturdiest carcass made. Forty-seven high-grade car manufacturers use them as standard equipment. They are the quality choice of cord users.

$13.95 for 30x3½ Regular Non-Skid Fabric

This new low price is made possible by strictest economies and specialized production.
Plant No. 2 was erected for the sole purpose of making 30x3½-inch Non-Skid fabric tires. With a daily capacity of 16,000 tires and 20,000 tubes, this plant permits refined production on a quantity basis.
All materials used are the best obtainable. The quality is uniform. It is the best fabric tire ever offered to the car owner at any price.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you life it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

COMPERS FIXES WORLD WAR BLAME

its political power in bringing about reforms in government instad of using bullets.

Discussing Irish question, when questioned as to what the British labor movement is doing for Irish freedom, Mr. Thomas declared the British labor movement stands for freedom, for dominion home rule in Ireland if it needs be, adding:

"The only limitation we put is that we are not going to have Ireland made a menace for submarine warfare. Don't assume, however, that the British labor movement stands for an independent republic."

Warning the workers of America that they cannot solve the Irish question, Mr. Thomas said:

"I warn you against trying to create their (Irish people) minds the feeling that you can solve their difficulties."

"We will continue to do our best" added the speaker; "we will continue to fight, but we will not allow our movement to be disrupted on any question, no matter what 't is, and I would ask our Irish frineds in America to believe me when I say that it is not quite so easy to judge this question from 3,000 miles away as we find it at home, and if we have been unable to solve the problem as a labor party, all I can say is that I wish you luck in solving it 3,000 miles away."

The British labor leader was given an ovation at the conclusion of his address and many times during his talk his remarks were applauded.

James Walker, also a delegate from the British Trades Union Congress, uregd arbitration of world disputes and disarmament.

"Just so long as nations are prepared for war, so long will there be danger of war,' he said.

FORCED TO FIGHT FOR HIS BREATH

Almost Physical Wreck, Raff Builds Himself Back to Vigorous Health

"I had heard a great deal about Tanlac and since trying it myself I can conscientiously say it is the best medicine I have ever seen in all my experience," said David Raff, 250 N.

DAVID RAFF
250 N. 59th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

59th St., Philadelphia, recently. Mr Raff has lived in Philadelphia all his life and is well known and highly respected.

"My health was all broken up," he explained. "My stomach was all out of order and gave me so much trouble that I actually dreaded to go to the table. I would simply rather go without eating than suffer the awful misery I knew would follow. I would bloat up so with gas that my heart would beat a terrific rate and it seemed sometimes I was being smothered to death. I just had to fight for my breath. My nerves were all undone, I slept poorly and was all the time having headaches that were almost blinding. I lost weight and felt so weak and run down all over I could hardly do any work.

"Sometime ago a good friend of mine told me he knew Tanlac would help me and he spoke so positive about it that I took his advice. And I can say right now that Tanlac is the first medicine I ever saw that will do exactly what they say it will. Five bottles have the same as made me all over again. I can eat anything I ever could in my life and have gained fifteen pounds in weight I'm no more nervous than a child, sleep fine and it just make me feel happy to be enjoying such good health. Tanlac certainly is a great medicine"
